GUNNING AND GRADES are the two things most on the students' minds in this week of trial and torment. Seniors Don Bentz and Milbern Goetz show some of the major ingredients in both — lamplight hours, cramming (reviewing), coffee.

Meta Fokkena Becomes U.S. Citizen

The United States gained a new citizen last Thursday afternoon.

A former resident of Aurich, a city in north Germany close to Holland, she came to Waverly with her parents in March 1956. She is Wartburg senior Meta Fokkena.

Meta began taking her test for naturalization at 2:40 p.m. in Waterloo. Signing of papers and a short ceremony followed the examination. Acting as witnesses were seniors Kathryn Koob and Carolyn Cihak.

Two Reasons Given

"I wanted to be a citizen," said Meta smiling, "so I could teach and get married."

She will attain her first goal after graduating next week, when she begins teaching French in a junior high school in West Allis, a suburb of Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 29. Her job helped to rush her citizenship because Wisconsin has a state law requiring teachers to be citizens.

Naturalization Hurried

"I would have had to wait several more months to become naturalized," said Meta, "if it hadn't been for my teaching assignment. When I found out about it, I sent a rush letter to the central naturalization office in Omaha. The officials then speeded up processing my application for citizenship."

Marriage, Meta's second reason for wanting citizenship, will be realized this summer. She became engaged to Raymond Brost, who is presently teaching in Milwaukee, on New Year's Eve, and they plan to be married in August.

Book Translated By Dr. Tillmanns

Dr. Walter G. Tillmanns, head of the Modern Languages Department, recently translated a book "Caesar's or God's? The Conflict of Church and State in Modern Society."

The book, written by Peter Meinbold, University of Kiel professor, will be published in March by the Augsburg Publishing House, Minneapolis.

The book is divided into four chapters. Chapter one, "What is Government?", deals with the statement of Bishop Dibelius that East Germany is not a government. Chapter two is entitled "Church and State Today"; Chapter three, "Revolution in the Name of Christ"; and chapter four, "The Church and War."

Dr. Tillmanns has written one book, "The World and Men around Luther," and has also translated three other books. They are "The Pastor's Personal Life" by Heinrich Rendtorff; "The Hungarian White Book of the Lutheran World Federation"; and "Message from God's Word" by Hans Lilje.

Two-Fold Alumni Program Adopted At Wed. Meet

A two-fold, formative program was adopted at a special meeting of board members of the Wartburg Alumni Association, class correspondents and chapter presidents held here last Wednesday.

As Alumni Director Robert Gremmels explained earlier, there are many in Wartburg's current files who were students at schools which later merged with the present Wartburg, and as a result they feel no direct tie.

Canvass To Be Made

A comprehensive, two-purpose canvass of every Wartburg College alumnus will be made this year. First object of the survey will be to determine which of the school's alumni wish to remain active. Secondly, the canvass will seek money for the college's 1962 Alumni Fund with special emphasis laid upon participation percentages.

Climaxing the day-long discussion was the resolution that the Association seek participation from every active alumnus during 1962.

Files To Be Revised

A subcommittee of the group, made up of the present executive committee of the WCAA, was created to formulate a questionnaire, which is to provide information on every alumnus for the files of the association's beadquarters and for a directory which will be compiled and sent to members.

Gremmels will head the committee, which is made up of Clarence Pries of Cedar Falls, association president; Ed Droste of Waverly, treasurer; Pastor Donald Loots of Mason City, vice president; and Helen Sprenger of Cedar Rapids, secretary.

Snow Weekend Is Planned

Wartburg will have a big weekend March 9-10.

Plans are now under way to have a Snow Weekend based on those at other Midwestern colleges, according to Student Body Pres. Al Snook. Although planning has just begun, Snook presented a rough idea of what might happen that weekend.

The Pops Concert would be held on Friday, Mar. 9. Plans are to get the Dave Brubeck Quartet, the second choice of the student body at a vote taken in convo last Thursday. The Four Freshmen, first choice, could not appear until Apr. 30, according to Snook, who received the information too late to take that name off the ballot.

Saturday afternoon the high light would be the annual IM all-star basketball game with Luther. Tentative plans for Saturday night include a variety show early in the evening with a dance to follow, said Snook.

400 TO 600 MEN EXPECTED

Brotherhood Meet Slated

By Jen Miller

Between four hundred and six hundred men from all parts of Iowa are expected on campus Feb. 2 to attend the 15th annual Brotherhood Institute, according to Institute Chairman H. C. Engelbrecht.

Theme for the institute will be "Jesus Christ: The Light of the World," used by the World Council of Churches at its recent meeting in New Delhi, India.

Institute Is Workshop

Engelbrecht described the institute as a workshop which provides Brotherhood members with an opportunity for education, inspiration and fellowship.

Registration and a coffee hour held in Knights Gym from 8:30-10 a.m. will begin the day's activities.

Wartburg Choir, directed by Dr. Edwin Liemohn, will sing at the opening devotions, starting at 10 a.m. in the Chapel-auditorium. Speaker will be Dr. H. W. Siefkes, president of the Iowa District of the American Lutheran Church.

Doerring Will Speak

Al Doerring, national Brotherhood director, will address the men at 10:30 a.m. Following his address will be the introduction of guests and the president's half hour with Dr. C. L. Hagen, Iowa District Brotherhood president, presiding.

From the Chapel-auditorium, Brotherhood members will move to St. Paul's Parish Hall and Carver's Restaurant for lunch.

Men Will Sing

Returning to the Chapel-auditorium at 1:15 p.m., the men will be entertained by a concert by the Wartburg Band led by Robert Lee, director. Maynard Anderson, also of the Music Department, will lead the men in group singing.

Pastor E. S. Hjortland from Oak Park, Ill., will speak to the men at 2 p.m., and at 3 they will receive information from the heads of three departments on the District Brotherhood's action in the areas of parish conservation, youth work and fellowship.

Singers Also To Perform

Castle Singers, directed by Dr. James Fritschel, will perform at closing devotions led by Pastor Herman Diers at 4:20. Lutheran Mutual Life Insurance is sponsoring an evening luncheon and open house for the Brotherhood members, which will begin at 5 p.m.

Climaxing the day's events will be the B-squad and varsity basketball games with the Knights taking on the Buena Vista Beavers at 7:30 p.m. in Knights Gym.

Film On Universe Opens New Series

By Lois Piotter

First block of convocations for the new semester will begin with the film "Universe" Jan. 30.

This film takes its viewers on a journey through space, beyond the solar system and into far regions of the sky now perceived only by astronomers.

Beyond the Milky Way the film encounters other galaxies reaching into infinity until one begins to question, is it possible that the universe has no end?

Special Effects Used

Animation and special effects are used in this film, giving shape to theory, showing what the mind of man has already conceived and also tempting one to go further in discovering what lies beyond the skies we know.

Feb. 1 the second convo in this block on astronomy will feature Dr. Frank K. Edmondson, visiting professor at the University of Indiana.

Edmondson From Harvard

Edmondson, professor of astronomy and director of the Goethe Link Observatory at Indiana University, earned his doctorate at Harvard. He has been research associate at the McDonald Observatory and program director for astronomy of the National Science Foundation.

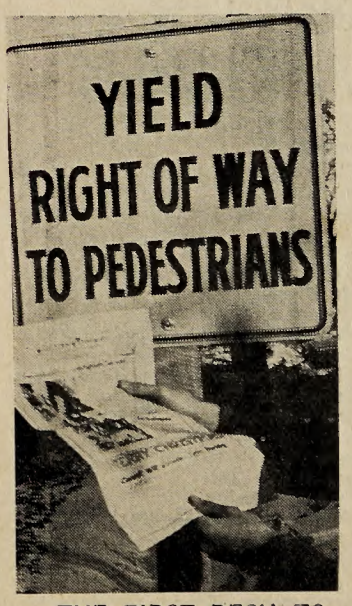
Dr. Edmondson's interests include stellar kinematics, radio astronomy and rediscovery of lost asteroids as well as radial velocities of faint stars.

New Students Apply

"Approximately thirty or forty new students have applied for the second semester. This second semester's total enrollment will be larger than in any previous year," stated Fred Thompson, director of admissions here. "Registration will be held open for two weeks after Jan. 29."

Applications for new students next fall are slightly ahead of last year's, Thompson added. Sizeable increases have been noted in the enrollment, especially from Illinois and Wisconsin.

Quartet To Play



THE FIRST RESULTS of a Trumpet safety campaign to make College Hill corner easier to cross is the sign above. As soon as the weather permits, another Trumpet proposal will be carried out — the curbs near the intersection will be painted yellow and parking prohibited, according to city councilman Al Bahlmann, who aided the recent Trumpet drive.

The Festival Quartet will be on campus Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium to present the third program on the regular Artist Series slate.

These four solo artists joined together in a chamber ensemble after having been associated in summer activities at Aspen, Colo., where they performed and taught at the Aspen Festival.

Quartet Plays Classics

This all-star quartet is the first one in a number of years to devote itself to the performance of the works of Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, Mendelssohn, Schumann and Faure.

Pianist for the group is Russian-born Victor Babin. After attaining fame in Europe, he came to America, wrote compositions and was part of a duo-piano team with his wife.

Goldberg Directs Orchestra

Violinist Szymon Goldberg studied in Poland and has played in concerts all over the world. He also conducts and directs the Netherlands Chamber Orchestra.

The world's greatest exponent of the solo viola is Scottish-born William Primrose. He has written music for the viola. Though a viola soloist, he says that he finds great satisfaction in ensemble work.

Nikolai Graudan, the cellist of the group, has toured all over the world with his wife, who plays the piano, and together they form one of the few remaining professional cello and piano teams.

Schedule, Please

Question: Why can't class schedules come out sooner?
The answer: Well, . . . at least it's not the registrar's fault.

Second semester registration starts Monday. Class schedules came out last Wednesday, five days before registration. This doesn't give the student much time to do any long-range planning or to do much thinking about what courses he wants to take with the pressure of first-semester finals hanging over his head.

But it is better than in the fall. Schedules last fall were not given out until a Monday afternoon. Upper-class registration began Tuesday morning. This left little time for the student to check with his adviser to see what he really should take. Instead, registration day was the usual hubbub of confusion when the adviser was overworked and the student frustrated.

Since many of the courses listed in the catalog are offered only occasionally (and since few are offered each semester), the student never knows what will be offered at what time until the day before registration. Perhaps this is a way to keep students at Wartburg — not telling them what will be offered, so they have to come back and see.

If the student is interested in a particular course, he has little chance to get enough other students that might want such a course because there is no time to do so. He might expect it to be offered, but if it isn't, he's out of luck. The teacher would not have time to prepare the course anyway or to order textbooks because he doesn't know that the students want it and because the department has decided not to offer it.

Registrar Mattie Harms, when asked why schedules didn't come out sooner, said that it was impossible, since the departments don't turn in their course offerings any sooner.

As a parallel to the impossibility, she jokingly answered, "Why don't you get A's and B's?" (which, conceded, is quite impossible).

Maybe she should ask for the departmental offerings sooner than she does.

It is not necessarily the fault of any particular person or office. It would be helpful, however, to get schedules sooner, so that the student would know more about where he stands. Many larger schools have their schedules out far ahead of time, so that a student can go home in the spring and already know what his schedule will be the next fall.

Maybe Wartburg could mail out the schedules when other information is mailed in August. Maybe the second semester schedules (which faculty members get a week or two before students) could come out before Christmas. Maybe?

And then there was the student who "gunned" for his exam till 5 a.m. and slept through it!

Warnert, Here's Letter To Mommy And Daddy

By Manny Brandt

Well, the end is drawing near; prepare yourselves. A letter written by a student was found recently and because there was no address on it, I am printing it in hopes that the owner may recognize it.

Dear Mommy & Daddy,

Well, I just thought I'd write you a short letter before going to take my P.E. final. (P.E. means Physical Education). I got the birthday present you sent me with "Happy Birthday, Warnert" written on the outside. Thanks. The fellows painted my body with magic-marker and threw me in the shower. Next time please send it in a plain wrapper.

Brandt

We had a movie in the last two convocations. It was real funny. One thing ahout college — you learn to recognize humor when you see it.

I finally got a job. I'm working at the cafeteria. It's a special job sorting food — eatable and non-eatable. A lot of the fellows in the dorm don't think there is such a job — just shows how much they stay abreast of the fast-moving times here on campus.

I finally got a girl — to go with me to the dance next weekend.

Well, I'd hetter close this letter hecause Claude, (or does he spell it Clod?) my roommate just came in. We have to go over to the Dean of Students office for counseling. Don't worry ahout me because they're taking good care of me here.

Love,
Warnert

If Warnert is in our midst, and I'm sure he is, would he please see me as soon as possible and claim his letter.

In closing — Will John see Mary again? Will Gurnie he evicted because of unmade beds? Will Barh get a divorce? Can Sandi love a beard? Will Manny fail out? (Probahly).

For the answers to these and many more controversial questions check in the next issue.

Writer Concurs Course Is Needed

Dear Editor:

I heartily agree with the editorial concerning a course on Communism being taught. I was quite surprised to learn that such a course has yet to be taught during a regular semester.

If Wartburg is going to be the Christian liberal arts institution that it claims itself to be, it owes it to itself and its students to offer a course such as this without delay.

IN THEIR QUEST FOR INDEPENDENCE

Africans Aim For Dignity

Editor's Note — This is the first of several articles by exchange student Ernest Abajah from Kenya, Africa, about his home continent. This is an African's look at Africa and should help the Wartburg student better to understand what underlies the African turmoil today.

By Ernest Abajah

The immediate cause of Africa's need for independence is the coming to realization of our people that independence will not come on its own unless people agitate for it and are ready to meet all the consequences that accompany agitation.

Most of our people do not want to he caught unprepared when the independence is handed over hy the imperialist to the settlers, and they do not want to remain perpetual slaves of the minority groups who have settled in Africa.

British Make Mistake

In tbe case of South Africa in 1910 when the British handed over the control of the government to the Boers, there was a mistake which we are not ready to repeat in the sixties.

The main contrihuting factor to our need for freedom was the contact we had with Far Eastern countries during the Second World War. These Asiatic countries agitated for their independence immediately after the war.

Asians No More Advanced

But from our young people who came into contact with these countries, Africans found that, in spite of the lengthy stay of Europeans in these parts of the world, they did not make Asians more advanced than most parts of Africa which were still under colonial rule.

Therefore, if Asians could he granted independence, then it was beside the point to claim that Africans were not ready for independence.

Colonialism Is Hindrance

We also came to the realization that, if we remained under paternal care of colonialism, we would not be able to win our human integrity; hence, it meant a choice between freedom or slavery. Riches which we preferred made us take the former.

One of the underlying causes of our need for independence is the acute awakening of our people to the intentions of most colonial powers of exploiting our natural resources for their good and increasing the wealth of the motherlands rather than to improve the standard of living in Africa.

Africans Stimulated

Africans also came to the realization that we had lost our human dignity and were being treated as underdogs by most parts of tbe world. This point stimulated the feeling of nationalism.

Thus, the colonialism issue is our acid test for all our enemies and friends. Those with us are against colonialism, and those who are our enemies are for colonialism and degradation of human integrity and freedom of the individual.

Parsons Challenges Knights Tonight

Top Conf. Team Brings 7-0 Mark

By Paul Mardorf

High-flying Parsons Wildcats appear tonight against the Knights at 7:30 in Knights Gym.

The Wildcats, currently leading the Iowa Conference with an unblemished record of 6-0, have an overall mark of 9-4. One of these losses was suffered at the hands of William Penn, which will become a member of the Iowa Conference this spring.

Wartburg Underdog

Knights will enter the game as definite underdogs. Thus far, they have compiled a 2-4 conference record and are 4-9 overall.

"We will again use the unit plan in the Parsons game," bead coach Fred Jaspers said earlier this week. However, he was quick to say, "The units are alternate units and not first and second teams. I'm not sure which unit will start against Parsons."

Knights Split Again

During the past week the Knights won one and lost one conference game.

Last Saturday the platoon system worked effectively in defeating Central 74-67. After losing to Simpson the night before, the Knights bounced back, senior Dar Oehlerich leading the scoring with 17 points. Freshman Harold Shudlick followed witb 15 points.

Norse Pull One Out

Tuesday night tbe Norsemen from Luther invaded Knightland and sneaked out an 81-80 victory, in one of a series of battles for the Axe.

Free throws proved fatal for the Knights. Although scoring nine more field goals than the Norse, the Knights were outscored from the free-throw line 31-12.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair all the way. With approximately three minutes left in the game, the Knights led 80-74 and then went scoreless the rest of the way.

Nielsen Gets 14

Knight freshman Bob Nielsen led the Knights in scoring with 14 points. This, however, was overshadowed by the dead-eye shooting of Luther's Lon Hyland. Connecting on 11 field goals and 13 of 14 free throws, he finished the game with 35 points.

After the 10-day final exam. lay-off the Knights will return to action Jan. 30 at Dubuque. Earlier this season the Knights defeated the Spartans 100-64. Dubuque, however, played the game without veteran performer Darrel Rathje.

Wartburg Seeks Revenge

On the following Friday Wartburg, in the annual Brotherhood Institute game, will seek revenge for an earlier defeat this season against Buena Vista. The game will feature BV's little All-American candidate Jim Ahrens, who leads the nation's small colleges in rebounds and also has a 22-point scoring average.

Wrestlers Win 2nd Meet By Dropping Loras, 14-13

The Knight grapplers nipped Loras wrestlers, 14-13, Wednesday at Dubuque.

This was Coach Norm Johansen's second win this season without a loss. Before Christmas vacation his squad defeated Augustana, 18-13.

Ackermann Preserves Win

Leading 12-11 entering the heavyweight match, Wartburg needed a pin, win or draw from freshman Len Ackermann to preserve its margin of victory.

Ackermann, wrestling in college competition for the first time, and Bill Carr battled each other for nine minutes, ending in a scoreless tie. The two points awarded each wrestler kept the win for Wartburg.

Light Men Are Best

But the wrestlers rode to victory mainly on the efforts of the lighter-weight men. Four of the five lightest classes were won by Knights, all by decision.

123—Roger Damrow (W) decisioned Dan O'Rourke, 5-1.

130—Bill Smith (W) decisioned George Sill, 8-2.

137—Jim Mueller (W) decisioned Bob Bromert, 16-0.

147—Joe Conley (L) decisioned Forrest Cerny, 6-1.

157—Tim Tower (W) decisioned John McCluskey, 8-3.

167—Tom Kilberg (L) pinned Keith Sillman.

177—Pat Monaghan (L) decisioned Ken Gill, 4-0.

Heavy Slate In IM Action

Three games were played last Saturday and eight more were played this week in intramural basketball action.

Seven of the eleven games were in the American League. In games played last Saturday, Cotta defeated Grossmann Basement, 48-27, Married Men won by forfeit from Faculty, and Off Campus C defeated Grossmann III by the score of 72-68. For off Campus C, Robert Brown scored 30 points.

Cotta Upset By Grossmann

The rest of the American League games were played Thursday. Allen Carley hit for 20 points to lead Grossmann III to an upset victory over Cotta, 56-40. Alpha Ketha, paced by Ted Kalkwarf's 20, walloped Nortb Hall A, 70-30.

Barry Greene turned in the highest point total of the season, 47, as Off Campus B ran over Married Men 73-41. Grossmann Basement used a balanced scoring attack to defeat Faculty, 59-38. The high scorer for the game was John Kurtt with 16.

Huth Leads Basement

The four National League games were played last Monday. Clinton Basement, led by Duane Huth's 25 points, dumped Off Campus A, 74-23.

Although Clinton I had the high scorer of the game, Gerald Baldner with 18 points, it was defeated by Vollmer, 52-46. In the final National League games, Clinton III defeated Grossman I, 38-33, and Off Campus D beat Grossmann II, 60-56.

Sem Foe Tonight For Squire Team

Squires will meet Wartburg Seminary tonigbt in a return match.

In the opening game of the season the Squires defeated the Sem 62-55. Since then, three of the Squire starters bave been moved up to the varsity.

After leading at halftime last Tuesday night, the frosh faltered and lost to the Luther freshmen, 87-76. Free throws proved the difference in the game, as both teams had an equal number of field goals. Luther won on free throws 23-12. Mo Sathoff led the Squires with 15 points.

Next game for the Squires is Jan. 30 against the University of Dubuque freshmen.

Drama Conf. Set For '63

Favorable responses for a proposed Religious Drama Conference in the spring of 1963 have been received by John Gill, drama director, from about fifty colleges.

Approximately one hundred letters were sent to private and church colleges in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Illinois in regard to their interest in the conference.

Purpose of the three-day conference would be to discuss the area of religious drama and its importance in relation to the college. Each school was asked to bring a one-act religious play to be judged on a competitive basis with awards presented afterwards. There is a possibility, however, that the plays will be presented as a festival, according to Gill.

At least one or two nationally known speakers on religious drama will also be invited to attend the conference. Sponsoring it will be the English-Speech-Journalism department.

Poetry Entries Due Soon

Entries for the annual Iowa Poetry Association Contest must be submitted by Feb. 15, according to Mrs. Margaret Garland, area chairman.

Students may enter the college contest as well as write nature poems and light verse. Faculty are eligible for the adult contest.

Prizes of $5, $10 and $15 are offered in the adult contest, and winners of the college contest receive $3, $5 and $10. Nature poem awards are $10 and $15. Light verse entries, suitable for publication in Harlan Miller's column in the Des Moines Register, "Over the Coffee," could win $5, $7.50 or $12.50.

Each contestant may submit a maximum of five poems per contest, but light verse entries may be in addition to the five. There should be one copy of each poem, typed double-spaced with the author's name and address in the upper left-hand corner.

It is preferred that poems be 20 lines or less. Light verse must be four to six lines with 28 or fewer spaces per line.

College poems should be sent to Eleanora Miller, 208 S. Church St., Leon. Others go to Ruth DeLong Peterson in New London.

If the writer wishes poems not used to be returned, he must enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Art Center Has Special Exhibit

The Art Department is presenting a Waldorf School exhibition of children's art work on second floor of the Fine Arts Center from Jan. 15-30.

The exhibition is sponsored by the Foundation for Advancement of Arts and Letters in memory of Rudolf Steiner. The Waldorf School Movement now comprises some seventy schools in Europe, America, New Zealand, Australia and South Africa. In these schools art is placed at the center of the educational process with all other subjects taught through art.

Miss Helen Wright, head of the Art Department, said that many more exhibits would come before the end of the year. The next one planned is on the life of Christ.

'Miss Wool' Being Sought

Miss Wool of Iowa will be selected in a state-wide contest to be held at the Kirkwood Hotel in Des Moines Feb. 24, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Iowa Sheep and Wool Growers.

To be eligible, attractive contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 25, be at least 5 feet 6 inches tall and not more than 5 feet 8 inches tall without shoes, and wear a size 10 garment.

They must also be residents of the state of Iowa, never have been married and have completed at least one year in an accredited college or university or at the time of the contest be in their second semester of college work.

Miss Wool of Iowa will receive an expense-paid air trip to the National Miss Wool Pageant in San Angelo, Tex., where she will be the guest of the city from April 1 to 7.

Further information and entry blanks may be obtained at the Trumpet office.

8-Week Session Planned

Summer school for 1962 will be an eight-week session, starting June 11, according to Dr. J. O. Chellevold, dean of faculty.

Dean Chellevold is in charge of the summer school and is to be assisted by an associate director, who will be a member of the college, appointed by Pres. C. H. Becker.

The program, which is considered a part of the total college program, is designed primarily for regular students.

Regular faculty curriculum advisers will be provided for all students attending summer school.

This program will replace the six-week term and post three-week term that Wartburg has previously been offering.

Gremmels Traveling

The Rev. Robert Gremmels, alumni director, went to Washington, D.C., yesterday to help organize another chapter of the Wartburg College Alumni Association.

The meeting was to be held this afternoon at the Lutheran Church Center in Washington. Gremmels will also go to Columbus, Ohio, for an informal meeting with alumni there.

After the chapter is formed in Washington, there will be nine Wartburg alumni chapters.
